For more than 20 years, the Bay of Angels' tour has been the unmissable event in December. The trip allows those people who have never been there to discover Nice from its most beautiful viewpoint, the sea; and for those who have already been there, they will be able to be amazed by the wonderful weather of the French Riviera at this time of the year. Heading towards Saint Jean Cap Ferrat on the first day, you will discover a wilder coast, with magnificent Belle Epoque houses nested within the beautiful bay of Villefranche sur Mer. On the next day, you will discover the famous Bay of Angels, with a view on the snow-covered mountains. The bravest will even be able to swim in the Mediterranean Sea.
